Dr. Michal Aharony is the Deputy Editor of Dapim: Studies on the Holocaust, a peer reviewed academic journal published by the Strochlit Institute of Holocaust Studies at the University of Haifa and Routledge. She was a Postdoctoral Fellow at the Open University, Israel; at the International Institute for Holocaust Research at Yad Vashem in Jerusalem; and in the Franz Rosenzweig Minerva Research Center at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Her research interests include history of political ideas in modern political thought and Holocaust studies. She taught at Beit Berl College, University of Haifa, Hofstra University and the New School. Aharony’s publications include Hannah Arendt and the Limits of Total Domination: The Holocaust, Plurality and Resistance (New York: Routledge, 2015); “Nihilism and Antisemitism: The Reception of Céline's Journey to the End of the Night in Israel,” Rethinking History: The Journal of Theory and Practice, Vol. 19, no. 1, 2015; and “Hannah Arendt and the Idea of Total Domination,” Holocaust and Genocide Studies (2010) 24 (2): 193-224.