

Scholarships for International Students – Call for Applications

The Faculty of Engineering Sciences is inviting applications from International students for an M.Sc. Scholarship. The program is open for candidates that have completed their Bachelor's Degree at an accredited University abroad. This scholarship is for students who are intended to complete an M.Sc. with a thesis.

The fellowship is for 2 years (4 semesters) open for all the departments and units at the Faculty of Engineering Sciences. Candidates must first be accepted by the host department and have an advisor approved by the department.

The student will receive a stipend of about 3500 NIS to help cover their living expenses. Some outstanding students may receive also a tuition waiver.

The scholarship will be awarded on a competitive basis

Procedure:

1. Contact the relevant host department by e-mail, find an advisor and receive his/her principle consent.
2. Apply for the M.Sc. degree using the following link <http://in.bgu.ac.il/en/Pages/registration.aspx>
3. Apply for the scholarship by completing the flowing form. The scholarship will be awarded on a competitive basis.
4. Applicants will be notified about acceptances for M.Sc. studies and scholarship.

Students may begin their studies on October 1 or March 1 each year. Scholarship's application may be submitted by the student advisor to the Faculty of Engineering Sciences by June or January, respectively, for those semesters.

Instructions for Scholarship Application:
