

Zvika Afik is a Senior Lecturer of Finance

Zvika's current research interests include credit risk, financial derivatives, risk management and hedging.

Prior to joining BGU Zvika has gained diverse experience in the technology industry, mainly in electro-optics and software, including: business management (VP Marketing, Managing Director, CEO, and middle management positions); business development, team building and leadership in Israel and North America; technology project management, system engineering, hands-on engineering, and consulting.

Zvika teaches a variety of courses in finance at the MBA program. These include: Options and Futures, Financial Engineering, Risk Management, and Investment Committee courses.

Zvika holds a BSc and an MSc in Electrical Engineering from the Technion - Israel Institute of Technology (1979) and Tel Aviv University (1989), an MBA (Executive Program) from Concordia University in Montreal (1996), and a PhD in Finance from Tel Aviv University (2009).