The study days will be held at the Kiryat Tevya campus. The schedule may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.

The courses run by the Academic Path are open to all students.

The hours may change during or before the studies, according to the system's needs.

Requests to change groups or cancel enrollment due to this reason will not be accepted.

It is recommended to check the "Announcements Board" on the center's website for any updates.