

Dr. Erga Atad holds a PhD in communication and Master's degree in political communication both from the Tel Aviv University. After receiving her PhD, in which she wrote a dissertation about global media within the context of the conflict coverage, she has been awarded a visiting professor in Tulane University in New Orleans. In addition, she was a Post-Doc fellow in the University of Austin in Austin, Texas. Her research interests include political marketing, political communication, global media and conflicts and journalism in the digital age. She has taught undergraduate and graduate courses in political communication and marketing both in Israel and in the United States. Currently she is a visiting lecturer at the Lauder school of Government, Diplomacy and Strategy, at the Interdisciplinary Center (IDC), Herzliya