The Senate and the Executive Committee of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev hereby resolve to honor Dr. Jan Low in acknowledgement of an exceptional scientist whose brilliant advances in the field of food security have transformed the lives of millions around the world; with deep regard for an exemplary innovator, whose groundbreaking work in bio-fortification, the breeding of sweet potato varieties rich in vitamins and minerals, has led directly to the alleviation of hunger and the reduction of illness in developing nations, with a concurrent empowerment of women; in appreciation of a visionary leader, head of the International Potato Center, who has astutely translated her pioneering research into a means of improving the quality and availability of healthy food in numerous African countries, and continues to expand the project for the benefit of countless people throughout the continent; in tribute to a celebrated researcher, co-laureate of the 2016 World Food Prize and an inspiring role model to colleagues and followers; and with heartfelt gratitude for her diligent dedication to the expansion of human knowledge and to fostering fellowship and cooperation among all nations, for the welfare of all humankind, by conferring upon her the degree of Doctor Philosophiae Honoris Causa with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereto.

Dr. Jan Low

In acknowledgement of an exceptional scientist whose brilliant advances in the field of food security have transformed the lives of millions around the world; with deep regard for an exemplary innovator, whose groundbreaking work in bio-fortification, the breeding of sweet potato varieties rich in vitamins and minerals, has led directly to the alleviation of hunger and the reduction of illness in developing nations, with a concurrent empowerment of women; in appreciation of a visionary leader, head of the International Potato Center, who has astutely translated her pioneering research into a means of improving the quality and availability of healthy food in numerous African countries, and continues to expand the project for the benefit of countless people throughout the continent; in tribute to a celebrated researcher, co-laureate of the 2016 World Food Prize and an inspiring role model to colleagues and followers; and with heartfelt gratitude for her diligent dedication to the expansion of human knowledge and to fostering fellowship and cooperation among all nations, for the welfare of all humankind, by conferring upon her the degree of Doctor Philosophiae Honoris Causa with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereto.

The Senate and the Executive Committee of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev hereby resolve to honor Dr. Jan Low in acknowledgement of an exceptional scientist whose brilliant advances in the field of food security have transformed the lives of millions around the world; with deep regard for an exemplary innovator, whose groundbreaking work in bio-fortification, the breeding of sweet potato varieties rich in vitamins and minerals, has led directly to the alleviation of hunger and the reduction of illness in developing nations, with a concurrent empowerment of women; in appreciation of a visionary leader, head of the International Potato Center, who has astutely translated her pioneering research into a means of improving the quality and availability of healthy food in numerous African countries, and continues to expand the project for the benefit of countless people throughout the continent; in tribute to a celebrated researcher, co-laureate of the 2016 World Food Prize and an inspiring role model to colleagues and followers; and with heartfelt gratitude for her diligent dedication to the expansion of human knowledge and to fostering fellowship and cooperation among all nations, for the welfare of all humankind, by conferring upon her the degree of Doctor Philosophiae Honoris Causa with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereto.

The Senate and the Executive Committee of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev hereby resolve to honor Dr. Jan Low in acknowledgement of an exceptional scientist whose brilliant advances in the field of food security have transformed the lives of millions around the world; with deep regard for an exemplary innovator, whose groundbreaking work in bio-fortification, the breeding of sweet potato varieties rich in vitamins and minerals, has led directly to the alleviation of hunger and the reduction of illness in developing nations, with a concurrent empowerment of women; in appreciation of a visionary leader, head of the International Potato Center, who has astutely translated her pioneering research into a means of improving the quality and availability of healthy food in numerous African countries, and continues to expand the project for the benefit of countless people throughout the continent; in tribute to a celebrated researcher, co-laureate of the 2016 World Food Prize and an inspiring role model to colleagues and followers; and with heartfelt gratitude for her diligent dedication to the expansion of human knowledge and to fostering fellowship and cooperation among all nations, for the welfare of all humankind, by conferring upon her the degree of Doctor Philosophiae Honoris Causa with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereto.

The Senate and the Executive Committee of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev hereby resolve to honor Dr. Jan Low in acknowledgement of an exceptional scientist whose brilliant advances in the field of food security have transformed the lives of millions around the world; with deep regard for an exemplary innovator, whose groundbreaking work in bio-fortification, the breeding of sweet potato varieties rich in vitamins and minerals, has led directly to the alleviation of hunger and the reduction of illness in developing nations, with a concurrent empowerment of women; in appreciation of a visionary leader, head of the International Potato Center, who has astutely translated her pioneering research into a means of improving the quality and availability of healthy food in numerous African countries, and continues to expand the project for the benefit of countless people throughout the continent; in tribute to a celebrated researcher, co-laureate of the 2016 World Food Prize and an inspiring role model to colleagues and followers; and with heartfelt gratitude for her diligent dedication to the expansion of human knowledge and to fostering fellowship and cooperation among all nations, for the welfare of all humankind, by conferring upon her the degree of Doctor Philosophiae Honoris Causa with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereto.