

Science, conservation and public

Dr. Yoav Perlman

BirdLife, Society for the Protection of Nature in Israel

23/11/2021, 12:00, Evans Auditorium, Sede Boqer Campus

BirdLife Israel is a conservation NGO, using multiple tools to better protect the birds of Israel and their habitats. Evidence-based research is such an important tool. In my talk, I will describe applications of scientific research in conservation of birds in Israel. I will address some advantages and limitations of scientific research in conservation, and discuss potential future directions in conservation, research and their interfaces, including the increasing involvement of citizens in research and conservation.

