

Doctor Tomer Shushi

Doctor Tomer Shushi is a researcher and a lecturer in Actuarial Science and Risk Management in the Department of Business Administration, Guilford Glazer Faculty of Business and Management, Ben-Gurion University of the Negev. The researchers of Dr. Shushi are focused on risk management, actuary, uncertainty, and finance. In his researches, Dr. Shushi develops and studies models and theories of financial and actuarial risk measurement, systemic risks that may harm entire financial systems, measurement of extreme loss events, analysis of loss distributions, risk decomposition, and optimal portfolio selection. Dr. Shushi publishes his papers in the top tier journals in Actuarial Science and Risk Management.