

אוניברסיטת בן-גוריון בנגב
جامعة بن غوريون في النقب
Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

MA Program in Middle East Studies (MAPMES) at Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel

Intertwined Worlds: Jews, Christians, and Minorities in Islamic Societies

One year International MA Program in Middle East Studies, with a special focus on minority religious communities and inter-religious relations

Program Highlights

- Master's in Middle East Studies from Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, in one year (3 terms, Fall, Spring, Summer), taught in English
- Intense Arabic program (colloquial, classic, modern standard Arabic, all levels)
- Research experience (archival work, oral history, Judeo-Arabic and more)
- International two-week course in Morocco on the Jews of North Africa
- Interdisciplinary approaches, postcolonial studies
- Academic tours in Israel: museums, pilgrimage sites, local archives
- Social activities and events: film nights, trips, a vibrant campus life!
- Study abroad in one of the most multi-cultural and religiously diverse cities in Israel!

Learn with us at The Department of Middle East Studies: home to a community of leading experts in the field.

Program Director: Dr. Jonathan Brack
E-mail: mapmes@bgu.ac.il

For more information
scan or visit
bgu.ac.il/study