

Elazar Ben-Lulu

Elazar got his bachelor degree in Sociology with distinction and he is a Ph.D student in Anthropology. His ethnographic research is focused on the constructions of performance, identities recognition and othering in Israeli Reform congregations .Elazar was a research fellow at Van-Leer Institute) VLJI (in Jerusalem and took apart in a special doctoral workshop of the JTS-Schocken Institute for Jewish Research for Jewish research at Jerusalem, which focused on "Feminine spiritual leadership".