

Dr. Manar Hasan is a Lecturer in the Gender Studies Program at Ben-Gurion University of the Negev in Israel. As a sociologist, her research interests are gender studies, urban and space sociology, postcolonial and colonial studies, collective memory and secular studies.

Her book Forgotten: Women, Palestinian City and the Struggle for Memory (Hebrew) has been accepted for publication by The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute Press.

Among her earlier publications: "Arabs and Jews, Leisure and Gender, in Mandatory Haifa's Public Spaces" (together with Ami Ayalon), in Yazbak, Mahmud and Weiss, Yifaat (eds.), Haifa Before & After 1948, Narratives of a Mixed City, Amsterdam: Republic of Letters, 2012.

"The Politics of Honor – the Patriarchy, The State and Murder of Women in the name of Family Honor", in Hasan, M., Izraeli D., Friedman A., Dahan-Kalev H., Herzog H., Naveh H., Fogiel-Bijaoui S. (eds.), Sex, Gender, Politics, Hakibbutz Hameuchad: Tel – Aviv, 1999, pp. 267-305 (Hebrew).