

The Institute for the Study of Global Antisemitism and Policy would like to invite you to apply to the upcoming ISGAP-Oxford Summer Institute for Curriculum Development in Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies at St. Catherine's College, University of Oxford, from July 28 to August 9, 2024.

This two-week workshop advances antisemitism studies, welcoming academics at all career stages. We seek your support in sharing this opportunity with your colleagues to encourage applications. Your assistance is crucial for a diverse and impactful participation.

Why Apply:

1. Elevate Your Expertise and Shape the Conversation:

- Gain insights and knowledge to invigorate your teaching and research.
- Develop cutting-edge course syllabi guided by leading international academics.

2. Network with Top-level Academics:

- Collaborate with fellow scholars and professionals from all over the world committed to challenging contemporary antisemitism.
- Forge connections that transcend disciplines and endure beyond the institute.
- Unlock potential funding opportunities, opening avenues for your academic pursuits.

3. Global Recognition:

- Join a prestigious community recognized for its dedication to examining, interrogating, and challenging contemporary antisemitism.
- Showcase your affiliation with the esteemed ISGAP-Oxford community.

How to Apply:

Scholars-in-Residence:

- Submit your CV, a letter of intent, two letters of recommendations, and a letter from your home department's Chair, Dean, or Provost.
- Recognizing the unique circumstances related to the challenges faced since October 7th, in lieu of a formal letter from your institution, please compose a letter demonstrating your commitment to incorporating program insights into your existing courses.